Daffodils guessing game

1. Your host has estimated the number of daffodils and has folded their answer back so no one can see (no peaking!)
2. Players pay an entry-fee (approx. $5) to guess how many daffodils are on the poster.
3. Once all players have made their guess, your host will reveal the number – the closest guess wins!
4. The winner receives half the money collected for the game and your host donates the other half to Cancer Council to fund vital cancer research.
